

Air Force Spouse Licensure Reimbursement Program Frequently Asked Questions

Current as of May 16, 2019

Q1: Who is eligible for this program?

A1: This is a Total Force program, so any Regular Air Force, Air Force Reserve, or Air National Guard Airmen on Title 10 orders may be eligible, providing the situation meets the criteria established in the policy.

Q2: What is the eligibility criteria for a qualifying PCS or PCA?

A2: The following criteria must be met to be considered a qualifying PCS/PCA:

- The Airman's PCS/PCA orders must be authenticated on or after Dec. 12, 2017 and must authorize movement of the Airman's dependents at government's expense.
- The Airman is PCSing/PCAing from a duty station in one state to a duty station in another state, including Hawaii; Alaska; Washington, DC; and the U.S. territories.
- Reimbursement is not authorized for moves upon accession, Career Intermission Program, retirement, or separation from the armed forces.
- Qualifying relicensing costs must be incurred and paid after the date the member's PCS/PCA orders are authenticated and within 24 months of the date the member's PCS/PCA orders are authenticated.

Q3: Which licenses/certifications qualify for this program?

A3: License/certification requirements vary by state; however, some examples include but are not limited to teaching, cosmetology, real estate, or nursing. Learn more about licensing and certifications from your installation Airman & Family Readiness Center, the Department of Labor website at <https://www.veterans.gov/milspouses>, and the DoD Spouse Education and Career Opportunities Program at <https://myseco.militaryonesource.mil>.

Q4: What is a "qualified" relicensing cost?

A4: For the purposes of this policy, "qualified relicensing costs" means costs, including exam and registration fees, imposed by the state of the new duty station to secure a license or certification to engage in the same profession in which the spouse engaged while in the state of the last duty station.

Q5: What if my spouse's qualifying relicensing fees only add up to $300? Will we receive the full $500?

A5: You can be reimbursed up to $500 for qualifying relicensing costs; in this scenario, you can be reimbursed $300.

Q6: When can I start applying for this reimbursement?

A6: This program will be implemented immediately; any Airman who meets the rest of the eligibility criteria during that timeframe may apply for reimbursement.

Q7: How many times can we apply for this program?

A7: This is not a one-time program. Airmen may seek reimbursement for each qualifying PCS/PCA, providing the circumstances meet the criteria specified in the policy.

Air Force Spouse Licensure Reimbursement Program Frequently Asked Questions

Q8: How do I apply for reimbursement?

A8: Your servicing finance office will process your reimbursement application. You will be required to provide a copy of the applicable PCS/PCA orders, a copy of your spouse's original state occupational license, and the paid receipts for items required to obtain relicensing from the new state (exam fees, registration fees, etc.). Your servicing finance office will advise you of the forms you'll need to fill out as well.

Q9: I'm retiring soon and will be PCSing from Minot AFB, North Dakota back to my hometown of Defiance, Ohio. My spouse wants to update her accountant certification – do I qualify for this program?

A9: This program is not authorized for moves upon accession, the Career Intermission Program (CIP), separation or retirement. The language in the NDAA is very specific in that it requires an Airman to PCS from "a duty station in one state to a duty station in another state." Accession, CIP, separation, and retirement moves involve relocating to/from a Home of Record or Home of Selection.

Q10: I'm PCSing from Aviano AB, Italy to Joint Base San Antonio-Randolph, TX. My spouse recently completed nursing school and wants to get their nursing license in Texas – do I qualify for this program?

A10: This program does not reimburse costs for obtaining licenses for a new profession; it reimburses relicensing costs. However, there are other programs that may assist in your situation; learn more about licensing and certifications from your installation Airman & Family Readiness Center, the Department of Labor website at <https://www.veterans.gov/milspouses>, and the DoD Spouse Education and Career Opportunities Program at <https://myseco.militaryonesource.mil>. Q11: I'm PCSing from Ramstein AB, Germany to Cannon AFB, New Mexico. Before Ramstein, we were stationed at Barksdale AFB, Louisiana, where my spouse was a teacher. My spouse wants to update her Louisiana teaching certificate to New Mexico – do I qualify for this program?

A11: This program is not intended for PCSes to or from overseas locations (with the exception of those previously listed). The language in the NDAA is very specific in that it requires an Airman to PCS from "a duty station in one State to a duty station in another State."

Q12: I'm PCSing to Kunsan for a 1-year unaccompanied (dependent-restricted) assignment. While I'm gone, my spouse is going to move to our hometown in Tennessee – do I qualify for this program?

A12: This program is not intended for PCSes in which movement of dependents at government expense is not authorized. However, if you receive an approved accompanied follow-on assignment, you may be eligible for this program at the follow-on location after your PCS orders are issued for that location.

Q13: I'm PCSing from Wright-Patterson AFB, OH to Air Command and Staff College (ACSC) at Maxwell AFB, Alabama, and movement of dependents at government expense is authorized. My spouse, who is a teacher, is going to move to her parents' home in Kentucky and teach there while I'm at ACSC. Since movement of dependents at government expense is authorized, do I qualify for this program?

A13: Reimbursement of qualifying relicensing/recertification costs apply to those costs imposed by the State of the new duty station, which in your situation is Alabama. You would qualify for this program only if your spouse updated her teaching license/certificate to the State of Alabama.

Q14: I'm stationed at Offutt AFB, Nebraska, and deploying on a 365-day extended deployment to Afghanistan. My spouse is a social worker, and wants to move to Texas with her sister while I'm deployed. While she is in Texas, my spouse wants to continue her career in social work, which would require her to update her social work license to the State of Texas – do I qualify for this program?

A14: This program is intended for PCSes or PCAs in which movement of dependents at government expense is authorized. A 365-day deployment is considered a Temporary Duty (TDY); as such, you do not qualify for this program in this situation.

Q15: I am PCSing from Hickam AFB, Hawaii to Little Rock AFB, Arkansas. My spouse is a member of the Air Force Reserve, and is an architect in the civilian sector. They want to update their license in Arkansas – do they qualify for this program, even though they're in the military?

A15: This program is intended to reimburse qualified relicensing costs of the spouse of a member of the armed forces; in the situation described above, you are eligible for this program.

Q16: Where can I find the policy for this program?

A16: The policy for this program can be found in AFI 36-2102, Base-Level Relocation Procedures. Please note: this AFI will be converted into an Air Force Manual. AFMAN 36-2102 will also include the policy for this program.
